Highlights

Overview

Take your natural experience in Nepal to a whole new level by going bird watching tour in Nepal during winter season.

The country and specially the Koshi Tappu Wildlife Reserve in the eastern Terai is a bird watcher's paradise and surprisingly a large number of these birds can be spotted in and around the Kathmandu Valley alone. The hills around the valley especially Nagarjun, Godavari and Phulchowki are popular bird watching areas and the Taudaha Lake on the way to Dakshinkali is fabulous for watching migratory water fowl during the winter months.

Your winter birding tour with Nature Trail starts from Godavari forest in Kathmandu with more than 100 species of birds and greenery of the Godavari forest. On further experience, we will head towards Bardia National Park which is home to Bengal florican, lesser florican, silver-eared mesia, saurus crane and other common birds of nature. With further bird watching in western Nepal like in Karnali zone and other community forest, we will head towards the central Nepal. In the central Nepal we will continue our tour in Chitwan National Park which is home to some 450 species of birds. Moving towards the eastern Nepal, our stop will be Koshi Tappu Wildlife Reserve which has better sightings of an incredible variety of both resident and migratory birds that come from as far away as Siberia. Koshi Tappu will be our last station for winter bird watching tour.
